

LAWA to Begin Roadway Improvements Project

The ATMP Roadway Improvements Project is billed as a major upgrade to LAX's infrastructure, aimed at reducing traffic congestion and improving access to the Central Terminal Area. By building 4.4 miles of new and reconfigured roadways, elevated lanes, and pedestrian bridges, the project will separate airport traffic from local streets like Sepulveda Boulevard, removing more than 500 vehicles from local roads at peak times. Construction is scheduled to begin later this year, with key elements ready before the 2028 Olympics and full completion by 2030.
